EXPERT CONSULTING EXPERIENCE

• Employment Matters

- Served as an expert economist and expert consultant for various confidential wage and hour matters, including FLSA class actions and PAGA representative actions, in which I analyzed human resource data, timecard data, building access data and driving distance data to estimate liability, penalties and damages.
- Served as an expert consultant for various confidential employment discrimination matters, including disparate impact class action litigation, in which I developed logistic and multivariate linear regression models to quantify the effects of candidate and employee characteristics on hiring, promotion, salary growth and reductions in force.

- Securities Fraud Matters

- Served as an expert consultant for the economic analyses for various class action securities fraud matters, in which I assessed market efficiency, established loss causation and calculated class-wide damages.
- Consulted a prominent mediator on class action securities fraud matters.
- Developed various financial models to analyze volatility and pricing behavior for a wide range of securities in a wide range of markets, applying, for example, market models, intraday event studies, GARCH models and statistical tests for structural breaks.

- Valuation Matters

- Served as an expert economist in the valuation of an executive's employment contract.
- Served as an expert consultant for a medical malpractice dispute involving the valuation of compensatory damages.
- Analyzed liability and damages in various LIBOR-related manipulation matters, in which I conducted the valuation of financial instruments including swaps, options and other financially engineered products, applying, for example, Black-Scholes, binomial trees and Monte Carlo methods.
- Developed a process to estimate the economic value of park district assets as part of a pro bono consulting engagement with the Chicago Park District and the Office of the Mayor. The process includes geospatial analysis of GIS data and hedonic price modeling, as well as traditional valuation methods such as discounted cash flow.

- Other

- Developed empirical analyses and market manipulation screens to address claims involving cartel behavior, price-fixing and bid-rigging in various confidential market manipulation matters.
- Conducted market concentration and impact analysis for a national health food chain as part of merger and acquisition antitrust matter.
- Built, managed and analyzed large and complex multi-dimensional databases on high profile cases, including the AMD v. Intel antitrust litigation.
- Extensive experience designing financial models and executing other econometric and statistical procedures in SAS, Stata, Python and R software.
